WATER-SOAKED PAPERS WASHED AND IRONED

Securities Worth $3,000,000
Rescued From Equitable Building Ruins.

NEW YORK, February 10.—The staff of the United States Life Insurance Company has just completed a ten-day job of washing and ironing which was probably without precedent in downtown New York.

The "wash," which was hung on lines strung across the vault of a big Wall Street bank and then ironed out carefully with electric irons, consisted of 3,000 pieces of paper representing more than $3,000,000.

Taken From Subcellar Vaults.

The securities were salvaged from the subcellar vaults of the burned Equitable building a fortnight ago. Thousands of gallons of water had filtered through them while they lay there, and the papers were soaked almost to a pulp when removed from their resting place.

"We tried to dry them with blotting paper," said Secretary Keweenaw of the company, "and we blotted and blotted away at the wet securities for almost a week, but the water refused to come out. Then we ordered a dozen electric fans and half a dozen electric irons. When these were sent down to our new vault we strung ropes across the vault and hung the 3,000 bond certificates out to dry in the breeze from the fans."

Omit Bluing and Starch.

"The certificates were attached with regulation wooden clothespins. As soon as each paper was partially dry one of us spread it on an ironing board and carefully ironed it out. About the only thing we didn't use which a laundry does is bluing and starch."

"The ironing of 3,000 pieces of laundry isn't easy work, and we are quite proud of the result, for not one of the 3,000 bonds is in the slightest degree torn or damaged."

Illustrated Lecture on California.

F. H. Poston is to give an illustrated lecture in the assembly hall of the Central Young Men's Christian Association, 1736 G street northwest, this evening at 8 o'clock on "California," showing 25 colored views. The lecture is open to the public, men and women, without charge. Mr. Poston lectured last evening on the same subject, giving also views of the canyon in Yellowstone Park, last evening in the Public Library before a large audience, including many members of the California State Association.

PROMINENT GUESTS PRESENT

Secretary MacVeagh Delivers an Address in Eulogy of the Revenue Cutter Service.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., February 10.—With the launching here today of the new revenue cutters Unalga and Miami by the Newport News Shipbuilding Company, the United States is adding to its revenue navy, under control of the Treasury Department, through the United States revenue cutter service, directed by Assistant Secretary Robert C. Bailey, two notable vessels to be engaged in the important work of saving life and property at sea in connection with their duties of seeing that the customs laws are complied with.

For the interesting ceremonies in connection with the launching and christening of the vessel a party composed of the Secretary of the Treasury, Franklin MacVeagh; numerous senators and representatives and prominent officials arranged to be present as the personal guests of the officers of the revenue cutter service. The honor of christening the Unalga fell to Miss Elizabeth Hilles, daughter of Charles D. Hilles, secretary to President Taft, and Miss Barnes Richardson, daughter of Representative William Richardson of Alabama, senior member of the House committee on interstate and foreign commerce, held the honor for naming the Miami.

MacVeagh's Tribute to Service.

The value of the revenue cutter service to the nation and to humanity was pictured by Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh in an address at the launching of the cutters. He traced the activities of the service in peace and war, interspersed with frequent demonstrations of heroism, through its history from 1790, when it was organized by Alexander Hamilton, the first Secretary of the Treasury, summing up its work, the Secretary said:

"It saves an average of fifty human lives a year. Who shall appraise the value of that work alone? It saves marine property from the perils of the sea amounting from six to ten millions of dollars every year; whereas the total cost of this service to the government is less than two and a half millions. It enforces the navigation laws, immigration laws, neutrality laws, and, when necessary, suppresses mutiny and lawless commerce."

"Each year it destroys or recovers an average of more than twenty derelicts, which otherwise would drift about in the paths of our coastwise traffic, a constant menace to shipping. Does one ever hear these days of a sailing ship being wrecked in a few remote places? Were it not for the revenue cutters constantly patrolling our coasts it is not unreasonable to suppose that large amounts of goods would enter in the easiest way."

Omit Bluing and Starch.

"The certificates were attached with regulation wooden clothespins. As soon as each paper was partially dry one of us spread it on an ironing board and carefully ironed it out. About the only thing we didn't use which a laundry does is bluing and starch."

"The ironing of 3,000 pieces of laundry isn't easy work, and we are quite proud of the result, for not one of the 3,000 bonds is in the slightest degree torn or damaged."

LYMAN L. PIERCE,
General Secretary, Pittsburgh Y. M. C. A.
Team Leader.

Culminating weeks of preparation looking toward the vitalizing of the moral forces of the National Capital, the eight-day campaign of the men and religion forward movement, regarded by many as the most important religious undertaking ever attempted in Washington, will get under way bright and early tomorrow.

The executive committee, headed by G. W. F. Swartzell, which has had charge of arranging the entire program, today wrote "this" to its laborers. The plans of the committee have been perfected with those of great political campaigns.

Working without the assistance of the national committee, in New York, which is directing the general men and religion forward movement, the local committee has perfected arrangements for the campaign, which, it is believed, would be difficult to improve upon. Not only has the committee been fortunate in securing an exceptional number of social service and religious workers of national reputation, but it has made arrangements which will insure the active participation by Protestant churches in every section of the city in the eight days of religious meetings and conferences.

For the reason that the date for the local campaign was advanced several months, leaving but three weeks in which to prepare a program, entire responsibility for the preparation of the program devolved upon the local executive committee. Washington is the fortieth of the ninety-old American municipalities which will have held similar campaigns before the end of spring. It is the only city so far, which has perfected its plans without the assistance of the national committee.

Nearby Cities Interested.

With the opening of the local campaign a score or more of nearby cities located in Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland will inaugurate auxiliary campaigns. These cities, it is announced, will send to Washington approximately one hundred delegates to participate in the various conferences.

The Washington campaign will differ from those held in other cities in that a distinct and separate program has been arranged for colored boys. W. H. J. Beckett, director of the colored Y. M. C. A., is in charge of this program, which will extend throughout next week.

The big feature of tomorrow's opening of the campaign will be the mass meeting for men to be held in D. A. R. Hall, 17th and D streets northwest, beginning at 3 p.m. The principal ad-

Illustrated Lecture to Be Given in Fourth Presbyterian Church.

Washingtonians interested in missions are invited to attend an illustrated stereoscopic lecture on "A Visit to Constantinople," to be given in the Fourth Presbyterian Church tomorrow evening by Mrs. P. G. Wilkins. The views were gathered in the Ottoman capital by Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Davis, the former formerly religious work secretary of the Y. M. C. A. here and now engaged in the work of the association among the Turks. The views were sent to Washington with the request that they be shown in the Fourth Church, which was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Davis during their residence in this city.

Lecture on Homes of Washington.

Joseph I. Keefe of Washington entertained the members of Lincoln Camp, Sons of Veterans, at its hall, on 10th street northwest, last night, with an illustrated lecture on "The Homes of Gen. Washington."

Following this address former District Commissioner Henry B. F. MacFarland, first vice chairman of the executive committee, will be presented. Mr. MacFarland is a member of the executive committee, will announce the events scheduled for the succeeding week. The musical program will be under the direction of Percy S. Foster.

Both Prof. Devine and Mr. Almy possess national reputations as speakers, and tomorrow's meeting, it is expected, will attract a large crowd. Prof. Devine is an author of note, and an experienced practical and social worker. Mr. Almy is secretary of the Charities Organization Society of Buffalo, and has been chairman of the social service committee of that city.

Other Services for Tomorrow.

The other events scheduled for tomorrow include a rally for men and boys to be held in all the Sunday schools, beginning at 9:30 a.m.; regular services at all the churches, commencing at 11 a.m., and an older boys' crusade rally, for boys between sixteen and twenty years old, to be held in the assembly hall of the Y. M. C. A. building, Lyman L. Pierce, head of the team of religious workers, will be in charge of the campaign, will address this rally.

During the week the mission aspect of the men and religion forward movement will be taken up in the institutes and at the convention—the latter to be held Tuesday and Wednesday. Lyman L. Pierce and Arthur J. Brown, Mr. Pierce is well known in Washington, having been for many years secretary of the Washington Young Men's Christian Association. It was largely due to his efforts that the present association building was erected. He has in recent years traveled extensively in the Orient, investigating and directing mission work. For two years he was with the laymen's missionary movement. His present position is general secretary of the Presbyterian Church, with headquarters in New York city. The institutes on missions will be held in Epiphany parish house.

The institute on church advertising and publicity will be conducted by Eugene M. Camp, president of the Church News Association of New York, and Allan D. Sutherland, religious editor of the Philadelphia North American. These institutes will be held in the Epiphany parish house, Church of the Holy Trinity, on Wednesday of next week.

Epiphany parish house will be practically given over to the work of the men and religion forward movement for the week. In addition to the institutes to be held there, the results of the investigations of the social service committee of the movement will be placed on exhibition these week days during the campaign. Sixty standard charts showing the work of the religious and charitable organizations of the District, and the forces and conditions under which they work, make up a part of this exhibit. Questions of interest to every Washingtonian have been taken up by the committee in its investigations, and the conclusions it has reached in regard to the liquor traffic, cost of living and various other city problems will, it is believed, be of vital interest.

Program at Colored Churches.

The program to be rendered during the week at colored churches, as announced today by the executive committee, is as follows:

February 11—Mass meeting for men at Metropolitan A. M. E. Church, 15th street; address by Bishop J. Albert Johnson.

February 13—Meetings will be held at Lincoln Temple, First Baptist, St. Paul A. M. E. and Ebenezer M. E. Church, 15th street; address by Bishop J. Albert Johnson.

February 14—Meetings will be held at Lincoln Temple, First Baptist, St. Paul A. M. E. and Ebenezer M. E. Church, 15th street; address by Bishop J. Albert Johnson.

February 15—Great men's mass meeting, Zion Baptist Church.

NEW AUTO BUS LINE.

Company Hopes to Be Operating

Within Three Months.

That the new company for the operation of automobiles on the 10th street line will be in operation within the next three months was the prediction made today by Horace H. Westcott, who has submitted the company's plans to the committee on transportation of the Board of Trade. The buses will be operated through 10th street, Massachusetts avenue and through the business section to the Union station.

It is not proposed to apply to Congress for a franchise, it is said, but to operate under a license such as is granted to sightseeing automobiles. The company expects to run buses on a five-minute schedule. Those interested in the company, it is said, have taken up the matter with the District Commissioners and learned that they can operate under such a license.

Caught Between Cars.

While working in the barn of the Capital Traction Company at 8th and M streets southeast this morning Walter Pierce of 921 3d street southeast was caught between two cars and painfully injured about his side and arm. He was taken to the Casualty Hospital.

Indignant and mentally sore, Jim and Edie protested with all the violence of youth, violence which proved as useless as it was ill-considered. Luke said nothing, for he foresaw that the end was inevitable. He set about making a home for his younger brothers and sister to be ready for them as soon as the cataclysm came, when Philip would turn his uncle's sense of right, of justice and of duty.

Frank, absent at Santiago—a young attaché out at his first post—had been told very little as yet. Luke had tried to break the news to him in a guarded letter which he received but the following brief and optimistic answer:

"Why, old man! what's the matter with you? Worried over such rubbish? Take my advice and go to Carlsbad. Your liver must be out of order."

But the catastrophe came, nevertheless, sooner even than was expected. Edie's
